Welcome to [workshop name]! In this hands-on workshop we will accomplish two main goals:

1. [Goal one] —
2. [Goal two] —

Use this guided walk through. When you see a command block that starts with a `$`, that is a command that you should type. Lines below that command (without a `$`) are the expected output of that command.

1 Getting Started

1.1 Example section

Explain a concept, then show the command to run:

```
$ echo "hello world"
hello world
```

Concept: [name]

Use a callout like this to define a term or highlight a concept the student needs before moving on.

Common pitfall

Use a callout like this to flag a mistake students commonly make at this step.
